

Activity Overview

This meeting is designed to enhance knowledge and increase competency in the treatment of cardiovascular disease.

Target Audience

This activity is designed for an audience of physicians, physician associates, nurses and pharmacists.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of the educational activity, participants should be able to:

Session 1 – Cardiogenetics: NICM / Inherited Arrhythmias

- Identify clinical features that warrant suspicion for inherited cardiomyopathies or arrhythmia syndromes and describe the appropriate indications, logistics, and patient referral pathways for genetic testing.

Session 2 – Advancing Practice

- Evaluate emerging applications of artificial intelligence and novel imaging modalities and discuss their potential to improve diagnostic accuracy and clinical workflow in cardiovascular practice.

Session 3 – Pericarditis

- Apply updated diagnostic criteria for pericarditis and incorporate current evidence-based treatment strategies, including newer therapeutic options, into the management of patients with acute and recurrent pericarditis.

Session 4 – Innovative Practice

- Assess the safety and feasibility of outpatient sotalol initiation and summarize the clinical implications of key cardiovascular trials from 2025, including REBOOT, RHEIA, VESALIUSCV, and ALONE-AF.

62nd Annual Carl J. Wiggers Memorial Lecture – GLP-1s

- Articulate the multifaceted cardiovascular effects of GLP-1 receptor agonists and integrate current evidence regarding their cardiometabolic benefits and risks into shared decision-making with patients.

Criteria for Success

Certificate of completion will be awarded based on the participant's attendance and will be available upon completion of an online evaluation/claim credit form. If you have questions about this CE activity, please contact AKH Inc at JGoldman@akhcme.com.
